Eric Bolander Company Of Libertyville To Get Contract For Broadway

Improvement of Block-long Street to Cost Just $8,996.66

The village board last evening awarded the contract for the paving of Broadway from Lake st. to Orchard st. to the Eric Bolander Construction Co. of Libertyville on its low bid of $8,996.66.

The only other bidder was the McHenry Sand and Gravel Co. of McHenry, whose bid was $9,257.80. Awarding of the contract awaits approval of the State Highway Department and a week's delay required by law.

A provision of the contract is that the gravel and dirt taken from the bed be hauled to village property east of the Soo Line tracks to be used for a roadway there.

Broadway is 339 feet long and the improvement calls for a sidewalk and gutter that length. The pavement will be bituminous mix and two coats of oil over gravel.

It is probable that work on the project will be started within the next three weeks.

Cost of the improvement will be paid for through motor fuel tax money.

High School Begins Plans for Homecoming Arranged for Oct. 16

Once again the time is approaching for one of the most outstanding events of the Antioch Township High school, the Homecoming, at which time the Antioch Sequoits will play the Glenbrook High school on October 16.

Plans are already under way for the big affair. Committees are being formed through the Student Council to direct the work. The hope is that this year will be the finest Homecoming on record.

Highlights to which the students may look forward are the bonfire, the parade, the dance, the coronation, the football game, and many other added features.

Special effort will be made to contact all alumni. Great appreciation is expressed to the many clubs, organizations and business men in the community who help to make the Homecoming a success. The high school again cordially invites each and all to enter floats in the parade. They are a splendid example of the fine spirit of cooperation which individuals and groups display toward the many events at the Antioch Township High school throughout the year. Special effort will be made to contact personally each organized group and the business men to participate in the parade.

Grant First Opponent In Conference Play Here Saturday Night

Sequoits Beat Wilnot 7-0
In Hard Fought Battle
There Friday

Antioch's football team will turn to its first conference game of the season with Grant under the lights here Saturday evening after having won a non-conference game at Wilnot Friday evening 7 to 0.

It was a tough team the Sequoits found themselves up against when they played the Panthers. The Wilnot team gained more yardage, and at one time was within 6 yards of the goal. In a pinch, however, the defense of the Sequoit team held.

Antioch's touchdown came in the second period when Allen Masopust, right guard, rushed the Panther passer on the 25-yard line and batted the ball into the air where Harry Lindgren, right end, grabbed it and went over for the touchdown. Chuck Davis kicked the extra point.

Wilnot stopped Antioch on two other occasions on the 10 yard line. One of the plays that set up an Antioch threat was a 55-yard run by Bill Gallagher.

Coach Paul Kessenich spent much time this week polishing up the passing attack and improving the blocking. The Panthers at times crashed through the line in mid-field play. "We need to develop our scoring powers," said Kessenich.

Almost the same lineup will be used against Grant.

A WELCOME CHANGE

Return to Central Standard Time Saturday Night Calls for More Adjustments Than the Clock Hand

Residents of the Antioch area living in Illinois will gain back that hour they lost last Spring when they return from Daylight Saving time to Central Standard time Sunday and will be privileged to turn their clocks back. That extra hour of sleep may be welcomed by many, but to those who have formed the habit of getting up earlier it will again be a matter of re-adjustment.

Patrons of the postoffice are reminded by Postmaster Roy Kufalk that the mails will be dispatched one hour earlier.

To insure mail going out the same day as presented for mailing, quantity mailings and firm mailings should be deposited at the post office not later than 4:30 p. m., Kufalk said.

"The amount of time required to ready mail for dispatch is one-half hour more than the actual time required for sorting," he continued. "With this in mind, it is apparent that more time is needed to process mail than the time allotted after principal business hours close."

Kufalk asked cooperation of the public so that the handling of mail can be expedited.

Other adjustments will be made by various businesses and institutions. The village board will go back to a meeting hour of 7:30 p. m. instead of 8 p. m.

Wisconsin residents who have been bothered by the difference in time between the two states, can rest at ease for another seven months.

Senator McClory on Campaign Tour for Republican Candidates

Senator Robert McClory of Lake Bluff, selected by his Republican colleagues in the State Senate to help elect Republican candidates in other senatorial districts, has been on a "downstate" campaign tour during the past two weeks.

Accompanied by Rep. Warren L. Wood of Plainfield, speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives, and Lambert I. Engdahl of Monmouth, member of the Republican State Central committee, the group has been sparking Republican action in nineteen contested senatorial districts.

The eighth district (Lake, McHenry and Boone counties), served by Senator McClory, and other even-numbered senatorial districts, will elect State Senators in 1956. However, the contests in the odd-numbered districts occur this year.

The principal senate fights are in the 33rd (Rock Island), 47th (Alton), and 49th (East St. Louis) Districts where the Republican candidates and their Democrat opponents are waging spirited local campaigns.

Senator McClory reports widespread support of Joseph T. Meek, Republican candidate for U. S. Senator and the Republican candidates for state office.

"The principal task of the Republicans is to get out a big vote," Senator McClory declared. He added, "Our campaign tour has been aimed at overcoming public apathy, and encouraging the county organizations comprising senatorial districts to develop more team work to assure Republican majorities in the Illinois House of Representatives and State Senate. Governor Stratton will need these majorities when the General Assembly convenes in January, 1955."

Grayslake Host to Play Day
Saturday, October 9;
Dittman Presides

Principal A. L. Dittman of the Antioch Township High School presided at a meeting Sept. 15 at Grayslake High School at which the Northwest Conference planned its year's activities.

By a vote of 6 to 2 the conference voted to drop Careers Day, a day originally scheduled for March 9 in favor of a Chicago operated Careers Day at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

The group accepted the invitation of the Grayslake High School to hold a Conference Play Day for Junior and Senior girls on Saturday, Oct. 9. The group then set place and date for all the unscheduled conference events, after which the group discussed the conference sportsmanship program and agreed to continue it for the current year with rating committees from each school to meet at Grayslake, Wednesday, Sept. 22 to set up a uniform rating program.

After a discussion of the types of meeting desired by the group for the current year, and appointment of Asst. Principal Mills of Palatine to act as adviser to the Conference Student Government Association, the group adjourned for dinner with the conference coaches and a short joint meeting with this group. After the joint meeting, the coaches remained to carry on their own organization's business.

Antioch Merchants Preparing For 3rd Annual Dollar Day

Most of Antioch's progressive merchants and business houses are busy this week planning for the Chamber of Commerce sponsored Dollar Days, set for Friday and Saturday, October 1 and 2. Some of the bargains which are expected to attract shoppers from a wide area are listed in the advertising columns of this issue of the Antioch News, but the bulk of the advertising and announcements will be carried next week.

Among inducements to shoppers to visit Antioch for the event is a program of bargains and entertainment to be sponsored by Reeves Drug store. Since the Dollar Days will fall on the date of the National Walgreen's sale, the dates are of special significance at Reeves. George Borovicka, owner of the store, announced this week that "Tato" renowned TV and circus clown will be on hand at the store on Saturday, Oct. 2, from 11 a. m. until 4 p. m. to entertain the children, and also that "Elsie," the Borden Cow and The Dutch Girl will be present to distribute treats to the kiddies.

Judging from past Dollar Days, it seems certain that Antioch will play host to a great many shoppers from distances outside the regular trading area.

Borovicka's Car a Winner
George Borovicka, local druggist, won two second places with his Lealand-Lincoln sports coupe on a trip last weekend. He won second place at the American Concourse of Elegance, Watkins Glen, N. Y., and second place in the Gay Nineties parade at Elmira, N. Y.

Chicago Policeman Found Dead in Bed At Pregenzer Resort

Michael A. Woods, 48, a member of the Chicago police force, was found dead in bed at the Pregenzer resort at Grass Lake yesterday.

An inquiry today at the Strang Funeral home was conducted by the Lake County Coroner, whose finding is expected to be natural death from heart disease.

Woods came to Grass Lake a few days ago with plans to spend three weeks resting. When he failed to arise at his usual time Ciel Simms, brother-in-law of the resort proprietor, entered the room and found the guest apparently lifeless. This opinion was verified by the Antioch Rescue squad which was called.

The body was removed to the Strang funeral home and later taken to the funeral home at 5939 Belmont st. in Chicago.

Woods is survived by the widow and several children.

Antioch Band Selects November 27 as Date Of Big Minstrel Show

The Antioch band has set November 27 as the date of its minstrel show.

The show will be given at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Antioch Township High school.

Of the old fashioned minstrel show type, the program will call for one act in the use of specialties and the second act in blackface with the interlocutor, end men and chorus.

The band is welcoming available talent, according to William Dow, who is in charge of the show.

From the profits of the minstrel show the band will buy music and other equipment and supply special entertainment for next summer's free concerts. If the profits are enough a fund may be started to buy uniforms.

Two Kinds of Steers

Did you ever wonder why we have an abundant supply of beef all the year round, instead of just during the late summer and fall when ranchers round up their herds and send them to market? The reason is that there are two kinds of steers.

The first kind is what the meat people call "finished"—a steer which can immediately provide succulent roasts, steaks, stews, hamburger and other dishes. These animals are bought by the packers, and the cuts from them are soon on the nation's dinner tables.

The second kind aren't so well finished. These animals are bought by cattle feeders. They are fed great quantities of grains and grasses and improved in both quality and quantity. Three to six months later they are sent to market again and bought by the packers, at a time when a diminished supply of steers is coming from the ranges. Thus the supply of beef is evened over the year.

This does more than to assure that we will have plenty of beef available whenever we want it. It also helps to stabilize the beef price structure. Otherwise, beef prices at wholesale and retail would soar between one roundup and the next.

The meat industry is geared to satisfying our needs in the most efficient and economical fashion, no matter what the date on the calendar.

Tribute to Private Enterprise

Most people think of the telephone industry in terms of a single major system. However, as in the case of other typical American enterprises, the excellent telephone service which is taken for granted in even the smallest communities, is in considerable part a product of the tireless energy of managements in scores of independent companies, whose importance is steadily increasing.

In the words of Newsweek magazine, "A striking phenomenon of the postwar years has been the steady shift of industry from large population centers to small ones. A little-noticed but significant by-product of this has been the mushrooming growth of so-called independent telephone companies which, with a few exceptions, serve small communities."

Newsweek then went on to describe the development of one of these companies which recently announced a "streamlining" program to keep pace with its rapid growth. This particular company (General Telephone Co.) through 16 subsidiaries serves parts of 21 states. It has assets of about $500,000,000. Its new construction budget this year is $80,000,000. It will convert 59,200 phones to dial operation.

What makes all of this doubly significant is the fact that here is an industry about which the public knows little, going ahead with the job of furnishing a vital service to the rural areas of the nation. There have been no long winded debates in Congress, and no appropriations from the federal treasury, and yet our country has the best telephone service in the world. If this isn't a tribute to taxpaying, business-managed private enterprise, what is?

Mail by Rail

Ninety years ago, a train pulled out of Chicago hauling a new-fangled car that looked like a cross between a box car and a passenger coach. This was an historic moment—for that car was the first of the rolling postoffices, even though railroads had carried mail in bulk as early as 1831.

The rolling postoffice revolutionized the mail service, providing a speed and certainty of delivery that would have seemed unbelievable in prior times. Today 2,600 of the cars ply the 137,000 miles of railroad designated as mail routes by the Post Office Department. Some 14,500 postal employees sort the mail on the move, while the railroads have nearly 50,000 of their own men assigned to handling the mail in stations. In addition, the lines make available for the mails a fleet of more than 11,500 baggage and express cars.

There is no question that mail by rail is the backbone of the postal system. The Iron Horse carries 35,000,000,000 pieces of mail a year—about 85 per cent of all non-local postal traffic. The law provides that the mail must be given preferential treatment over all other traffic—which means that in an emergency passengers might have to wait while the mails went through. Such an eventuality is hardly likely, however—the railroad-post office teams work together so smoothly and efficiently that each day's mountain of mail melts away into millions of mail-box molehills in routine fashion.

Finally, the railroads do this tremendous job for a very modest wage. Payments to the rails account for only 12½ per cent of the Post Office Department's total expenses. And for transporting each piece of first-class mail the rails receive less than one-eighth of a cent—or about one-twenty-fourth of each three cents' worth of postage thus used.

TIMELY REASONS WHY

always be glad you bought a Chevrolet now!

1 You'll stay proud of Chevrolet's lasting good looks

Other low-priced cars just don't have the quality look you see in Chevrolet. And if you like Chevrolet's looks now, you'll like its looks always. For there's fine design in those clean and smoothly curved lines (nothing "boxy" about Chevrolet!). And fine design like this never really goes out of style.

2 You'll enjoy exclusive features for linear motoring

Chevrolet's the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. It has the highest-compression power of any leading low-priced car, for more fun in the going and more miles out of the fuel. Chevrolet puts your safety first with the biggest brakes and the only full-length box-girder frame in the low-price field. It's the only car in its field with that smoother, softer Unitized Knee-Action ride.

3 You save when you buy and when you trade

Chevrolet is priced below all other lines of cars. (That's possible because Chevrolet builds the most). And at trade-in time, you'll be ahead again from Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value!

4 You'll get a special deal right now

Right now, we're in a position to give you the deal of the year on a new Chevrolet. Come in and let us show you how much you'll gain by buying now!

The Human Voice Said to Be Very Fickle Instrument

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—One of the most complex and fickle instruments in the world is the human voice, say Rutgers University engineers, who are trying to reduce it to a minimum of linguistic elements that can be incorporated in a high-speed, interference-free system of radio and telephone communications for the Army Signal Corps.

The proposed system would overcome static and other noises, even deliberate jamming, and increase channel capacity by decreasing the required frequency band width in radio and radio-telephone communications.

Development of such a system would prove invaluable for intercontinental radio-telephone exchanges or even long-distance telephone calls as well as meeting certain Signal Corps problems.

The engineers are trying to code the voice in a form, that is considerably simpler than the original speech. They have developed a system of coding and detection that reduces interference and improves reception of weak signals. Once the problem of analyzing the human voice, coding it and effectively transmitting it have been solved, the engineers say, they will then try to find a way to receive, interpret and repeat the coded message immediately in its original form, even to the degree of near-perfection limitation of the sender's voice.

The problem of simulating the sender's voice, or for that matter, characterizing the "average" voice is one of the toughest confronting the researchers.

Mothball Fleet Is Electrocuting

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—The Maritime Administration is now using electricity to prevent America's mothball fleet from rusting away. Many ships of the National Defense Reserve Fleet are being saved from corrosion by an "electrocuting" process devised by General Electric engineers.

The new process actually does electrocute the ships in a mild sort of way. Direct current from electrodes buried in the mud along the shore passes through the water to the underwater sections of the ship hulls. This makes the hulls part of an electric circuit and causes an electrochemical reaction which prevents the hulls from corroding and results in the electrodes rusting away instead.

Rectifiers make this ship-saving process feasible. Stationed on shore, they convert the normal alternating current into the direct current required for this operation.

Previously, ships had to go into drydock every three years for scraping, refinishing and painting. Now they can be left in the water saving the government an estimated $1,500 per ship per year.

Suicide Cave Holds Bones of Japanese

MANILA, N.I.—A Philippine constabulary officer has reported discovery of a mountain cave in which 300 Japanese World War II soldiers apparently committed mass suicide.

The cave was discovered by Lieut. Col. Diosdado Garcia, while leading a patrol against Communist Huk rebels. It is located in a dense jungle area, half a hundred air miles from Manila. Col. Garcia said a large quantity of war equipment, including eight Japanese machine guns, "already disintegrating from the rust," were found beside the skeletons.

It was assumed that the Japanese soldiers committed suicide when they were cut off from escape by the advancing United States forces during the liberation of the Philippines early in 1945.

Some of the bones were in heaps, others nearly arranged in rows.

Hearty Eater Dies At 106 Years of Age

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—A 106-year-old woman who attributed her longevity to a hearty appetite died here recently.

Mrs. Harriet Crain was born on June 13, 1847. In discussing her longevity last year, she said she always ate, and ate heartily. Her diet flouted doctor's suggestions and she sometimes ate meat three times a day and liked plenty of eggs, corn flakes, milk and coffee. She would, however, have nothing to do with vegetables.

Survivors included 23 grandchildren; 30 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Unlucky Thief

MERIDEN, Conn.—A trespasser, arrested for peeping into windows, told policemen that he intended to move into the neighborhood and wanted to make sure that his prospective neighbors were quiet and decent.

Crocodiles Face Uphill Battle For Survival

WASHINGTON—Crocodiles, the world's largest reptiles, are facing an uphill battle for survival.

A booming trade in skins for women's shoes and handbags is steadily shrinking the crocodile population, with Europe's recent leather shortage a major factor in the growth of the lucrative industry.

In Central Africa authorities have ordered license controls to stem the mass slaughter of crocodiles, after a survey disclosed "marked and rapid decline" of the once numerous Nile creatures.

In Australia's Northern Territory the reptiles are so scarce that professional hunters may abandon their annual trips into the backland.

East Africa yields more than 2,000 skins monthly, 700 from Tanganyika alone. Skins are shipped to tanning factories in Britain and the United States. Only the relatively soft belly skin is suitable for processing.

Some professional crocodile hunters today employ harpoon guns. Natives still seek their prey with noose and pronged stick. Poisoned bait is also used—a ball of cyanide concealed in a piece of meat and hung from shoreline bushes.

One-Man Housing Problem for Graham

CHICAGO—Evangelist Billy Graham is preparing the way for a possible solution to his one-man housing problem.

As most local facilities have proved inadequate to handle throngs attending his traveling sermons, Graham recently asked R. G. LeTourneau about the possibility of having a portable building for his big-scale meetings.

The industrialist started designs before Billy left the United States for his three-month London Crusade and produced a Big Top of super-colossal proportions, said to be weather-proof, sound-proof, completely ventilated and made of aluminum.

The Semisphere, as it's called in Science and Mechanics, is constructed of 15 successive rings, covering over 70,000 feet of ground and when fully "pitched" reaching to 85 feet.

Although LeTourneau's original design will seat over 12,000 of Billy's listeners, it is expected he will expand the capacity of the Semisphere greatly.

While Graham's request for the Semisphere was so that he could "take it with him" there are no reports, as yet, on how LeTourneau will wrap it up for portability.

Wasps Are Not Quite So Waspish at Night

WASHINGTON—If you're planning your own war on wasps, wait until after dark.

Besides being less waspish at night, the critters with the powerful stings, actually are homebodies who like to stay in the nest while other insects are enjoying night life.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has put out a new publication with findings about after-dark habits of wasps and how they can be killed easily by spraying or dusting with chlordane or DDT.

Hornets, yellow jackets and mud daubers are among the 50 annoying species of wasps that can be controlled by methods described in the new leaflet.

Nests of hornets and yellow jackets can be removed by plugging the nest opening with a wad of cotton soaked in carbon tetrachloride—a commonly used cleaning fluid—then quickly dislodging the nest into a sack that can be burned, buried or put into an airtight can with carbon tetrachloride.

Pilots Buzz Towns When They Are Lost

CHICAGO—Some communities that have been buzzed jittery by low-flying planes have solved the problem easily by displaying the name of the town in big letters visible from the air.

This has helped, say insurance underwriters, since most pilots fly low over towns because they want to find out where they are. Only a few pilots buzz towns to show off or frighten the residents.

The name of a town on a large building or some other prominent location will not only help pilots stay on course, but also will provide excellent advertising for the town.

It Pays to Pay

CAMDEN, N. J.—Mrs. Marie Walsh, Ventnor, N. J., once received $10,923 for testifying in an income tax evasion case. Five years later she got 90 days and a $5,000 fine for failure to pay income tax on the money she received, along with other income.

1908 Rambler Obtained By Russell Stowe; Will Repair for Antique

An antique collector's rare find in old cars was obtained and brought to Antioch the past week by Russell Stowe, member of the Antioch fire department.

It is a 1908 Rambler, one of five cars of that model made.

Stowe obtained the car from Albin H. Selbert, 85, former Waukegan saloon keeper, who bought it second hand from the president of a Waukegan bank.

Selbert drove the car into the wilds of Northern Michigan, about 22 miles northeast of Park Falls in Iron county on French lake. In doing so he had to build bridges and construct roads to get there. Later he moved his family there, but was unable to use the car much.

Selbert removed the wind shield, lamps, and other accessories and stored them, but the chassis and body stood in the weather for 50 years and was worse than junk.

With his ability as a carpenter and mechanic, Stowe expects to clean and restore the four-cylinder motor, rebuild the body with its cast aluminum floor and put the parts back on.

The car originally cost about $2,800, and if Stowe can restore it to a usable condition it will have a collector's value of $1,000. Selbert gave the car to him and he hauled it home on a truck.

Unlike present day machines the Rambler had a timer instead of a distributor on the engine.

George Borovicka, local antique car collector, says Stowe scooped him on the find.

98 in Driver Training Class at Central High

Announcement was made today by Principal A. H. Erickson that 98 students at Central High school began a course in Driver Education on Sept. 8. Instruction is being given to the need for thoughtful driving if we are to decrease highway traffic accidents. Mr. Erickson declared, "Because young people, including drivers through age thirty, who represent one-third of our Wisconsin drivers are involved in nearly 50 per cent of the traffic accidents, it is apparent that education must play an ever increasing part in the traffic safety program. Not alone knowledge, but its application through improved social attitudes, is our aim. Young people must be taught how to live with, as well as to use, the motor vehicle if they are to live safely in this automotive age."

Driver education is being sponsored for the 14th year by the safety division of the state motor vehicle department with the approval and cooperation of the department of public instruction. It is a subject which is in keeping with many others taught in the high school to help prepare young people to become better citizens.

Airship Acting As Aerial 'Eye' For Miami Police

AKRON, Ohio—The airship, a highly successful spotter as a member of the U.S. Navy's anti-submarine warfare team, is now acting as an "eye" in the sky for the Miami, Florida police department.

Long a familiar wintertime sight in the resort city, the Goodyear blimp, Ranger, has been equipped with two-way radio to allow it to help search for missing boats, hunters or children—even law-breakers.

Ben Demby, noted communications director for the city of Miami, arranged for the two-frequency radio to be installed on the airship. With the new facilities the Ranger's crew can communicate directly with all law-enforcing agencies throughout southern Florida. This embraces all types of ground forces, from ships at sea to squad cars, motorcycles and even walkie-talkie units on land.

In its role as an "aerial eye" for one of the nation's most complete law enforcement communications systems, the blimp acts as an emergency auxiliary for police radio for 16 hours a day during the five winter months it is based in Miami.

It is the first time, according to Ranger Captain Verner L. Smith, such elaborate equipment has been installed aboard a civilian blimp. In charge of the airship operations on Miami's MacArthur causeway, Smith has logged more than 18,000 flight hours during more than 22 years as a pilot of lighter-than-aircraft. He is a captain in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

Cable Car Devotees Hung On to the End

SAN FRANCISCO—The historic Hyde Street cable cars have clanged their way into history, but not without a last-ditch struggle on the part of cable advocates who strenuously fought the move to do away with the ancient cars.

The line was abandoned as an economy move. Nostalgic riders jammed the last little red-and-gold car as it left O'Farrell and Market Streets on the final run over the hills to North Beach.

The return trip was delayed for some time when an overzealous proponent of the cables jammed the grip. Once back to the barn, it took the combined efforts of police, Municipal Railway Employees and a big truck to break the grip of the dis-bards on the cable car so that it could be taken into the barn.

During the melee some of the car advocates shouted, "Lynch the mayor, lynch the mayor!"

Scene of Killing Also Site of Trial

WARREN, Pa.—In an unusual situation, Norman Moon, 36, of Connellsville, Pa., was found guilty of first degree murder in the same courtroom where he shot and killed Judge Allison D. Wade. The verdict carried the death penalty.

The defendant had said he planned to shoot himself, but flew into a rage and killed the judge instead when he was appearing in court for failure to make non-support payments of $30 a week to his estranged wife.

Digestive System Of Honeyguide Under Army Study

WASHINGTON—One of the world's most fantastic birds, the African greater honeyguide, is distantly related to the North American woodpeckers. The honeyguide is one of two known living creatures that can digest wax, the principal food which it obtains from bees' nests. Living specimens of these birds will be studied at the Army Medical Center to determine what makes this digestion possible.

It is hoped to find intestinal micro-organisms, possibly of some unknown species, or hitherto unknown enzymes. If they can be identified, they may have a role in aiding medication aspects of the treatment of tuberculosis.

In Africa, the honeyguide leads natives to the location of a bees' nest. Since the nest must be broken open before the bird can feed on the wax, it deliberately seeks out a human being and then "guides" him to the treasure. The honeyguide does not eat honey, but feasts on the wax.

This behavior has been reported hundreds of times. Once a man's attention has been attracted, he is likely to take the hint, since the bird's reputation is well established and a store of honey is eagerly desired by the natives. The bird will fly a short distance, wait for the man who is following, and then make another short flight. It takes no chances on the honey hunter losing the trail.

Runaway Problem Seen in Study

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Some indication of the size and importance of the problem of runaway children may be given by a recent study made on this subject in Pennsylvania by the Division of Rural Child Welfare of the State Department of Welfare.

In most states, runaways are legally classified as delinquents. The Pennsylvania study reveals that in 1952 an estimated 645 runaway children under the age 16 from other states were found in Pennsylvania, including one from Hawaii and one from Puerto Rico, and 143 children were returned to Pennsylvania from other states.

Both of these figures are thought to be underestimates. It is a common practice for police and other agencies that find runaway children to return them to their homes without referral to the police department or other agency in their home communities; often no official record or count of them is kept.

The Pennsylvania study may be of interest and value to other States that have felt need to assess their runaway problem. The report tells how the survey was made and gives data on what is done with runaway children when they are found and what services are available to help them.

Large-Loss Fires Threat to Economy

NEW YORK — Large-loss fires have serious effect on the nation's economy and pose a threat to our defense potential, say Fire Protection Engineers. A large-loss fire is one that destroys property worth $250,000 or more, and the nation is presently having about 300 such fires annually.

While these represent only a small fraction of one per cent of the total number of fires in the United States, they account for about 24 per cent of the nation's dollar fire loss, which last year amounted to $903 million.

Such large-loss fires are indicative of the trend away from city conflagrations, typical of which was the Baltimore fire of 50 years ago that burned out 80 blocks in the city's business district. The Baltimore loss was estimated at $50,000,000, the approximate equivalent of a single industrial fire last year.

13th Divorce Draws Comment From Judge

LOS ANGELES — The lady won her 13th divorce, but it brought some biting words from the judge.

Mrs. Beverly Nina O'Malley, 44, was granted a divorce from Raymond J. O'Malley, No. 13, whom she accused of blacking her eyes, setting fire to her hair, tearing her clothing and burning her with a cigaret.

"Marriage is a habit with this lady," Superior Judge Otto H. Hume said. "I don't suppose she will ever get out of the habit. Giving her a divorce is only turning her loose to do it over again. However, I guess we might just as well let O'Malley out of the picture."

Older and Smarter
CHICAGO—Insurance underwriters say farm folk and small town residents are better drivers than big city dwellers, if auto insurance rates are a guide. Rates for smaller towns and rural areas are 10 to 60 per cent lower than big city rates.

FARM NOTES

An acre of rye seeded this fall may save as much as half a ton of hay in a cattle wintering program. In five trials at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station, rye pasture produced an average acre gain of 130 pounds on ewes and lambs. Illinois 4-H club membership has exceeded 60,000 this year for the first time. A University of Illinois agricultural engineer says that most corn picker accidents can be traced directly to taking a chance, especially late in the day when the farmers were in a hurry, were tired and didn't react quickly. The first step toward growing meat-type hogs on any farm is a long, lean boar to head up the swine herd.
